When an international real estate company decided to purchase a Cessna Citation CJ4 jet, they turned to Aero & Marine Tax Professionals to help in getting a sales tax exemption for the purchase.

An executive for the company said “The plane gets you where you want to be faster. To get to one of our locations you’d have to take 4 commercial flights to get there. It’s an all-day trip, each way. I’ve done it. To have our own plane, it cuts the flight time in about half. I would recommend Aero & Marine Tax Professionals to others. They didn’t drop any big surprises on me at the end, and they were very organized at letting me know what they needed from me. If there was something I missed they were very good at following up with me so that I did get it to them. They were great and very easy to work with.”

It's true! We've saved clients literally millions of dollars - I can guarantee you won't find anyone with more knowledge and experience.
